TranzAlpine Rail Journey

Your journey on the TranzAlpine commences in Christchurch and roams across the vast patchwork plains of Canterbury to Arthur's Pass, deep in the Southern Alps. The section, between Springfield and the township of Arthur's Pass, is considered a masterpiece of railway engineering and is the section for which the TranzAlpine is most famed. During your journey you will travel through 15 short tunnels and four dramatic viaducts, for the most iconic views.
